

BRICK ELEVATOR BELTS

PRODUCT INFO SHEET

Rydell Industrial (Belting) Co supply and service the conveyor belting commonly used on Brick Elevator Conveyors in the construction industry.

Rydell "Brick Elevator belts" are used for the loading and inclination of bricks and tiles used on housing and building construction sites. The use of a conveyor belt reduces the effort required to load bricks onto two story dwellings high strength polyester carcass for high strength and long life

As the market leader in conveyor belting in Australia, we have selected the best belts available to fulfill this important requirement. We fabricate our belts from the highest quality elastomer covered conveyor belt to reduce product abrasion and increase belt life. We use high strength polyester reinforcement for reduced stretch and maximum fastener retention. We also offer FULLY MOULDED as well as custom bonded profiles to give you the best performance on the market. Some companies use inferior adhesion methods leading to lug failure and premature belt replacement.

Contact your nearest Rydell branch for advice or a quote on your next conveyor belt requirement.
