Ultrafeed 500 feed belts for the carton folding industry

Every now and then, a product is released that out performs all its competition, and gives long performance with reduced cost.

Ultrafeed 500 feeder belts are such a product, but don't take our word for it, here's a recent case study from a major carton producer in Australia, proving the advantages of Ultrafeed 500.

"Back last year we started to look at different feed belts on our Bobst Alpina machine, as we seem to get around 1 ½ to 2 months wear out of the red belts the OEM was supplying. As this is a high speed machine, which seems to be the main cause for the high wear, after trialling some other brands of belts with no success, Rydell offered their Ultrafeed belts. We decided on a trial over 3 months and the belts have held up with not much wear and maintained excellent grip throughout the belt.

These Ultrafeed belts ended up lasting 6 months on the machine before we needed to replace them and we have been very pleased with their performance.

The cost of these belts are .....higher than the red belts, but over a time period has gained us savings in belt replacement and machine downtime.

I would like to thank Rydell in helping us trial this product and look at ways we can still increase its performance."
